*For example, previous names of the provider, providers which have now merged with a member provider, providers which are part of the provider's group. A complaint about a provider in this column should be submitted to the OIA as a complaint about the Provider in the first column. If your provider is not listed, please contact our Casework Support Team enquiries@oiahe.org.uk.

² Students can only complain about this provider if they are (or were, for former students) on a higher education course. See the Guidance on our Rules for more information.

If your provider is not listed, please contact our Casework Support Team enquiries@oiahe.org.uk.

*For example, previous names of the provider, providers which have now merged with a member provider, providers which are part of the provider's group. A complaint about a provider in this column should be submitted to the OIA as a complaint about the Provider in the first column. If your provider is not listed, please contact our Casework Support Team enquiries@oiahe.org.uk.
